

GLOUCESTER CITY NEWS, THURSDAY, JULY 1, 2010

PHOTO BY ANNE FORLINE

SEA STARS – On June 23rd, guest speakers from the New Jersey Academy for the Aquatic Sciences presented “Investigating Invertabrates” at the Bellmawr Branch of the Camden County Library. The children who attended the program were able to get up close and personal with Madagascar hissing cockroaches, Sea-Stars (or, as they are commonly called “Starfish”), Horseshoe crabs, a Chilean rose tarantula and a Diamondback terrapin. Guest speakers from left: Desi Broadhurst, Julie Weinstein and Estelle Kerdock share their special creatures with Cara Forline, Mike Tobey, Paige Tobey and Ean Miklosey.